Approved by the Massachusetts Department of Elementary and Secondary Education, Learning Prep School is a special education program which meets the needs of students through specially designed instructional programs, delivered in safe and structured classroom settings.

While we primarily focus on educating students with language-based learning disabilities, our student profiles are complex and varied. Students with other learning disabilities and/or social communication challenges have also been successful in our educational environment.

Student Population: Learning Prep School is a co-educational learning environment for students ages 8-22. We serve 190-210 students from over 90 communities in Massachusetts, Rhode Island, and New Hampshire.

2017 Commencing Student Profile

90% of our graduates go onto a college or post-high school training program:

- Attended a college level program: 55%
- Attended a transition program: 35%

Summer Program

The Extended Year Program is designed to maintain progress and prevent substantial regression through structured educational and social experiences. The program is modeled after the academic school year, but includes social activities to help provide a "camp-like" feel. The Extended Year Program is open to any student who is enrolled at Learning Prep School.

Senior Year Program

Students attend work on a biweekly schedule and, with the support of teachers and job coaches, are assisted in maintaining employment each work week, managing take-home academic assignments, and participating in college and career-readiness activities. Job coaches provide on-site support and training while managing student progress and goals. Job coach support fluctuates in accordance with student need, which develops individual growth and confidence.
